

Newmarket Veterans Parade Thursday

Remembering their comrades of two wars, Newmarket and district veterans will parade to the Christian church on Remembrance Day, Thursday, Nov. 11, after wreaths have been placed at the town memorials.

There will be two parades ending in a church service at the Christian church. The Newmarket Veterans' Association will fall in at the town hall at 9 a.m., marching west on Botsford St., south on Church St. to the cenotaph, east to the Haines memorial, and north on Main St. to the Veterans' Plot and memorial at the cemetery where there will be a brief service. They will then return to the Christian church. The Newmarket Bugle Band will parade with them.

The Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion will fall in at 10.15 at the town square, parade to the Christian church for service at 11 a.m. with the other organization. The Newmarket Citizens' Band will march with the Legion.

The parades of both organizations are open to all veterans; regardless of affiliation.

The service at the Christian church will be taken by Rev. Fred Breckon and Rev. Henry Cotton, assisted by Arthur D. Evans.

All veterans are urged to parade on Thursday, which has been proclaimed a public holiday, in homage to their fallen comrades.

Aurora Veterans To Parade Sunday

Aurora—On Sunday, Nov. 7, the Aurora branch of the Canadian Legion will hold its annual Remembrance Day services. Forming at the town park at 1.30 p.m., a parade will march to the cenotaph at 2 p.m. where wreaths will be laid and a brief dedication service will be held. The parade will then move to the Aurora United church at 2.50 p.m. where a one-hour service will be conducted by Aurora clergymen.

HYDRO TIGHTENING SCREWS

'Situation Grim' Mayor Rose Says

Aurora—"The hydro situation is grim," stated Mayor Dr. Crawford Rose at the council meeting Monday evening as he disclosed Aurora's new quota and restrictions. Aurora's former quota of 18,075 kilowatt hours was cut seven percent Monday to 16,800 for a five-day week. This means a reduction of 2,000 kilowatt hours as Aurora's daily average has been 18,800.

To meet these more stringent restrictions the hydro commission made four recommendations which were approved by council: the stores remain closed all day each Wednesday; alternate street lights be shut off from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. giving a saving of 40 percent or from 200 to 250 kw.; the police enforce the service station early-closing by-law of 7 p.m.; the present power cut from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. be changed to from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. This would force all businesses to close at 5 p.m. each day. Another cut within two or three weeks of one hour was forecast by Mayor Rose and two one-hour cuts for adjacent rural areas in the very near future.

According to the hydro office on Wednesday, the municipal hydro is getting less from the consumer but is forced to pay more during the hydro shortage. Due to an antiquated system enforced by the Ontario Hydro Commission each municipal hydro is charged for each month on the basis of the highest 20 minutes of consumption during the month.

This is an expensive blow to any community. While they find the going tough, the Aurora Hydro Commission is nevertheless optimistic. "We got through it before and we will do so again," said one hydro representative.

Cousins Dairy Wagon Pushed Into Creek

Newmarket—Damage by Halloween pranksters was light on Saturday night, according to the police. The most serious damage was done when someone pushed a dairy wagon belonging to Cousins' Dairy over the embankment and into the creek at the north-east corner of the Water St. bridge. The wagon had been set up on blocks because the air had been let out of the two front tires. The inner tubes were ruined when it was moved along the street and the crash over the bank broke all the glass, damaged the corner of the top and sprung the shafts. The steps were removed from the Alexander Muir school.

Trade Magazine Praises Elman Campbell Store

Newmarket—"Progressive planning and sound business policies broadened the merchandising field for Elman Campbell," says an article in a recent edition of the publication, the Canadian Stationer.

The article, entitled "Small Town Big Business," describes the well-known stationery store operated by Elman W. Campbell on the east side of Main St. "The value of giving tourists attentive service," says the article, "has been proved many times here. Coming in for the first time, U.S. visitors have said that the store was recommended to them by friends."

The Canadian Stationer points out the efficiency with which Mr. Campbell runs his business and that it is a good example for other stationery stores to follow.

To Speak Sunday At Christian Church

Rev. J. L. Barley, field director of evangelism, Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, will be guest speaker Sunday at the Christian church.

Mr. Barley, a young man, has recently been appointed to the position of field director of evangelism after serving in the ministry of the Baptist church in Windsor for over eight years. The emphasis of his work is on the need and progress of the young people of the church. Mr. Barley has been well received throughout Ontario and Quebec.

Along with his conference work, Mr. Barley is an able preacher of the Gospel. As an aid to his work among children he is a cartoonist of real worth. He is active in the all-round activities of men and the community at large. His hobby is sketching, some of which show real merit.

Mr. Barley will be the special speaker for all services on Sunday, Nov. 7, at the Congregational-Christian church. In the morning his subject will be "A Theological Christian Church." In the evening "The Door to Life." For the Sunday-school at 2.30 p.m. and the Young People's Fireside at 8.15 p.m. he plans to give chalk talks.

Why Poppy Day?

Saturday, Nov. 6, is Poppy Day, when the public will be asked to purchase and wear that symbol of sacrifice in two world wars.

The Poppy Day appeal is not made on behalf of any one organization, but on behalf of all veterans. The proceeds are placed in a fund administered by the Canadian Legion, but every veteran, regardless of affiliation, has a claim on the fund if he is in need.

The Poppies and the Veteran Wreaths are made by disabled veterans who are thus gainfully employed. Even if it were only to maintain these veterans in employment, Poppy Day would be worth while. But such is the response to Poppy Day, that veterans the dominion over are benefited. It is the public that makes this so.

Buying a poppy is a material contribution to veterans' welfare. It is also a dedication to the memory of those who served.

What's Newmarket Need Most?

Newmarket—"What a single large scale municipal improvement is most important to Newmarket, in your opinion?" That was the question put to several people by the Era and Express yesterday in a random inquiry into public opinion. In each case where we obtained a concrete answer, we also asked "Do you think the town should debenture for it?"

"Suitable accommodation for a courtroom, town council chambers, also an auditorium that could be used for a gymnasium or dancing," was one enthusiastic answer. "The present public buildings are a disgrace. We need a place for public functions and such organizations as the Dramatic club and also for bingos. We should debenture for such things, definitely. There is nothing wrong when a properly run municipality is in debt," he said.

"At the present time, a new school is needed most of all, whether the public realizes it or not. Yes, debenture for it, naturally," said an office worker on Main St.

"Our sidewalks have taken enough pounding over the years, and our roads have had it. That's the most important improvement for Newmarket. There is no other way than to borrow money and have these things done now instead of leaving them to completely decay," was one opinion.

Other suggestions were as follows: "Install a sewage disposal plant, clean up the creek to the south and also the source of its contamination and then start a project at Fairly Lake for swimming and there would also be skating there in the winter."

"There are so many things to be done in the interest of the town. If the town is going to go ahead instead of backwards, it will have to debenture. It needs prestige and one place to get it is through good buildings. It will need a community hall, with swimming pool and stores fronting the hall. We have the property and it seems to me that there was a survey among the industries a while ago when there was almost $100,000 promised by them to help such a project."

"Artificial ice."

"A second Main St. The only way Newmarket can grow is to open up the way between Timothy and Park just west of the present Main St. Widening Main St. is too expensive and there would be no new assessments gained. With a second Main St. we would gain new assessments."

"A municipal building to house the fire department, police, clerk's office and council chambers. It would carry prestige and lift morale. It would probably improve the morale and efficiency of councillors to meet in a decent place."

On one enquiry we obtained this frank answer, "A word I can't give an opinion. I don't know enough about municipal affairs. Guess I am just like a lot of other people, just attending to my own affairs and not bothering with things that are going on around me."

Many of the opinions coincided but the most popular idea among them was new and better public buildings.

Police Held To Office By Desk Work

Newmarket—The work of the local police calls for many duties to be carried out for the protection of the public. Besides the routine jobs, there is always the unforeseen such as helping other departments and outside police which involve extra work. Administration and clerical work such as reports, answering letters from other departments, letters about stolen goods and phone calls is almost a full morning's work for the constable on duty. If he has time, he makes a tour of the Main St. in the morning to check up on traffic and parking.

All kinds of phone calls come into the office, some emergencies and some just for information or civil matters or complaints. The police officer almost needs to be a lawyer to give out information that many people expect. Many individuals call up for references

New Quota 2,000 kwh Less

Newmarket—As was anticipated last week, Newmarket's quota has been cut 1,300 kwh. daily, effective Nov. 1. In an effort to meet the new restrictions, power cut-offs were increased by 15 minutes twice a day, effective Thursday.

Newmarket hydro was warned by provincial officials that if steps were not taken immediately to reduce consumption to the new level, provincial hydro would act accordingly.

A meeting of industrialists and other heavy power users was held Thursday night in an effort to plan new reductions of individual use.

New times for power cuts were initiated Thursday, with the first cut-off coming at 9 a.m. and lasting until 10.15, and the afternoon cut 1 p.m. to 2.15. The change was made to simplify the job of cutting off the east side of town, which must be done by pole-switches, to enable extensions of the cut-offs if necessary, and to relieve the system from the strain of picking up the power load at a time when the load was near its peak. The difficulty of pulling the many pole switches is the reason parts of the east side of town have sometimes been missed.

Newmarket was averaging about 800 kwh. over its former quota of 20,000 kwh. The new quota is 18,700, leaving almost a 2,000 kwh. reduction to be accomplished.

Give Two Readings To School By-Law

Newmarket—A by-law to borrow $140,000 to build a new public school and purchase land for it, was given two readings at council meeting Monday night and shelved until the next meeting. Mayor Jos. Vale said that a by-law of such importance could not be passed in the absence of two members of council. He said that representatives of the public school board asked that the by-law be passed by council so that it could be sent to the Ontario Municipal Board for approval. He added that he did not think it likely that the Ontario Municipal Board would allow the town to borrow that much money without a vote by the ratepayers.

BOARD OF TRADE

Newmarket—A meeting of the Board of Trade has been called for Monday night at 8.15 p.m.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Have you made any new friends lately?

Of course we always want to keep our tried-and-true friends. But to make new ones is to discover an important secret of a richer, more interesting life. Like travel, new faces and new personalities help lift us out of our rut. So, instead of waiting for new friends to drift into our lives, it is a good plan to seek them and cultivate them.

Where will you find them? Right in your own town—perhaps in your neighborhood, church, club or place of work. Already you have a "nodding acquaintance" with some people who may later be included in your circle of intimate companions.

Choose from all types—not just those whose occupations and interests are similar to yours. Favour those who are mentally stimulating.

Of course, to make new friends means that you must usually make the first move. But most people appreciate being singled out and quickly respond to friendly overtures. And the little effort you make will pay dividends in happier, more successful living.

Like a good friend, the modern life insurance agent is always ready to offer helpful advice when needed. And as a result of his services, millions of Canadians enjoy peace of mind through owning life insurance.

UEFB MOBILIZES TO GIVE BRITAIN STRENGTH... IN COLD WAR TO WIN THE PEACE

—REASON FOR UEFB—

centralizing buying and transportation, including delivery at destination, substantial savings can be effected. The scattered efforts of many can be channelled to an efficient single team of relief, without loss of individuality as persons, groups or organizations.

The gallant people of Britain are suffering today because they are determined to win the cold war. They are the only nation in Europe fighting with body and mind to vanquish the spectre that haunts the Old World.

Their health is being weakened, their efficiency impaired, by the tremendous restrictions they have imposed upon themselves. They stand in danger of being defeated by undernourishment.

Why? Because Britain imports four-fifths less goods than before the war, yet exports more than half as much again as in 1939.

Says the British Ministry of Food:

"... we are living on marginal nutritional standards, and there is cause for anxiety lest this should be having adverse effects on physique and health... Everything you can send us is wanted and urgently wanted."

If the British people go under, YOU and all of us, will feel the effects. We need a strong Britain to help fight the cold war. Give generously to UEFB—TODAY.

Our two eldest, Geoff and Stella, broke away from the parental hand on Halloween for a brief whirl in the company of the pre-kindergarten set at the other end of town. It was an auspicious occasion, marking their debut into the world of bright lights and gay parties, and the advance publicity laid down by their parents had them hopping with impatience as the hour drew near.

They laughed and they sang their way through the misty streets to the party house, full of questions and anticipation of this new venture. They marched up the walk and into the house, clutching their hats in one hand and paper masks in the other — and then stopped dead with mouths agape and eyes popping. The advance releases had not prepared them for this — for Mickey Mouse, and ghosts and cow-boys and Bo-Peep. These costumed creatures were completely out of their world. They seemed harmless but you could never tell on a night when owls hooted and hobgoblins hid under the bushes. So they stayed in the doorway and stared — and stared until surely their eyes would burst from the strain. This was not at all the cream-puff world of Ring Around the Rosy (current favorite) and gobs of ice-cream for the taking that their parents had prepared them for. This was new. This was different. This was something to be approached with the utmost caution. They suffered the removal of their coats before the silent stares of their fellow party-goers and as the others led the way into the living-room with laughter and horseplay, Geoff and Stella went to the doorway — but not a step beyond. Nothing would move them. They protested not, nor raised their voice in tears, neither did they go into the room. They just stood there and stared and stared. Even when refreshments were passed, they remained firm, two little faces peering in the doorway but resisting all inducements to join the others.

There was only one thing for poppa to do and he did. He quietly slid out the back door leaving the hostess to grapple with the problem. Feeling as if he had just stabbed his mother in the back, he fled for the car and home.

An explanatory and exploratory phone call 15 minutes later was greeted with reassurances from the other end of the wire. "Oh, they're alright," said the voice of the hostess. "As soon as you left, they went right in."

Well! When we went to collect them at bed-time, Stella was ringing the rosy with shouts of laughter and Geoff was driving a truck underneath the dining-room table, entirely oblivious of the damage he was doing to the furniture. We were greeted with faint indications of recognition and then shrugged off as just another curious spectator. We suppose it was our just deserts for abandoning them but even so —

Their return home was a triumphal entry. Mother was given all the details at the top of their voices and long after they should have been asleep, there was laughter and whispers from their room as the night was recounted and plans made for another Halloween party on the next day.

Church Has Tradition Of Service

Few members of the Second Markham Baptist church who met October 24-26 for 100th anniversary celebrations have any inkling of the exciting pioneer days of their church when, within a few years of its founding, it transformed a boisterous, near frontier district into a progressive community. The founder, William Rateliff, arrived in 1830, from Colechester, England, breaking family ties and leaving his inheritance as he sought a home for his wife and five children in the new world. He settled on the Markham-Whit church town line at the 6th con. For eight years, every Sabbath morning, he took wife and children over eight miles of rough corduroy road to church. At this time, Sundays were given over to horse racing, drinking and brawling. There were two busy hotels because at that time the 6th was the main road to Toronto. The busiest day was Sunday.

William Rateliff decided to act. As a result of meeting in private homes, he had a nucleus of 40 members in two years. He then donated land and helped them build a church. It was opened in 1848 but had no full time pastor until 1854. As the church grew, the hotel business slackened. The taverns were torn down, thanksgiving services were held on the sites of the former hotels and hymns were sung as members of the church plowed under the last traces of the buildings.

The history of Second Markham Baptist church shows it as aggressive now as in the past. Led by Rev. Norman Rowan, the parishioners are establishing a notable record. They support their own missionary in China and a large Sunday-school several miles to the north. A great grandson of the founder, Don Rateliff, provides up-to-date feature-length religious movies.

The mother instinct in a Kerry Blue Terrier out at Hollywood Fur Farm on the 6th con. of Markham was evident when the terrier adopted an orphan kitten born on the farm about the same time as the dog lost her family of pups at birth. The adoption occurred a few weeks ago and just now the kitten is being weaned, a healthy looking youngster of its tribe.

A bell-shaped glass with a white cross entwined with white flowers is a gift to the Simcoe County Museum from the Misses Powell, Whitby. The glass stands 16 inches high on a base two inches thick and covers a Latin cross of roses, carnations, fuschias and lilies-of-the-valley. This delicate ornament was made in 1879 or 1880 by their mother, a pioneer of Whitby. Wax flowers were a favored ornament in drawing rooms and parlors of homes of earlier years and a handicraft much admired. Beeswax has been much used for the manufacture of wax flowers. The wax for this purpose was bleached and prepared in sheets of various colors, which were cut into shapes for petals and leaves according to the flower to be imitated. An old-fashioned picture box containing bleached portions of wax and equipment accompanied the case of wax work. Miss M. Viola Powell is well known throughout the county as former assistant superintendent of Women's Institutes for Ontario.

Maple was known as Thamesville 119 years ago when the main road ran eastward from Dr. Wal-bau's hill to Yongo St., not going through the village as the south end was still swamp. A few years later a road was built through the swamp and in 1820 the Scotch people of the locality desiring a place to worship, built a Presbyterian church across from where the present one stands. In 1848 James Woods came to Rupertville as the community was then called. This made the fifth family, the others being Oliver, Rupert and two Nobles. The Masonic Lodge was started in 1854 with James Woods as master. He was considered the first Free Mason in Canada. In 1878 fire destroyed all the buildings from Lawrie's Corner to the Methodist church. Maple at one time had a saw mill, a planing mill and a rope factory. There were two hotels and the one known as Rumble's hotel sold good meals for 25 cents and board was $4.50 a week.

In 1893 the old school house was demolished and in 1904, the present building was erected, costing $3,200. In the same year, the crematory run by Bill Robinson was built. In 1904 Richmond Hill station was burned and the present one built. At this time the name was changed to Maple and the C.N.R. bought the Grand Trunk Railway. In 1928 Maple became a police village and in 1929 the first trustees were elected. Roy Rumble, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rumble is the sixth generation of the James Woods family to live in Maple.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

The C. Of C. - What About It!

There is a definite need for an organization to serve the businessman on Main St. It was thought that need had been met when the Newmarket Chamber of Commerce was revived last spring. Following an enthusiastic inaugural dinner, officers were elected, chairman named and memberships solicited. Summer came and with it, the suspension of activities by the Chamber. Newmarket's Chamber of Commerce would begin its program in the fall.

September came, and then October, and still the Newmarket Chamber of Commerce has yet to show any signs of life.

Last week, we said in these columns that the needs which prompted the revival of the Newmarket Chamber of Commerce continue to exist, that the approaching Christmas season holds many problems for the Main Street merchant which can only be solved through the joint action of which a Chamber of Commerce is capable. We said that if the Newmarket Chamber of Commerce was unable to meet these needs, it must be considered a dead issue.

Since then, we have received several assurances that despite the lack of leadership which was to be expected from a duly elected executive, there are members of the Newmarket Chamber of Commerce who recognize that Main St. and business generally in Newmarket, must have some sort of organization and are willing to continue despite the ineffectual start the Chamber has made.

They feel keenly the silence that has descended upon the Chamber of Commerce since the spring. Under the circumstances, it would appear that a condition of the Chamber's survival in Newmarket is either action at once or the holding of a general meeting and a change of officers.

The men who were elected by their fellows to represent them in the Chamber of Commerce accepted certain responsibilities which to date they have not shown much ability to discharge. If there are other circumstances which claim their energy, the time has long since past when they should have stepped down in favor of those who are more fortunately placed to serve the organization.

Well, It's A Thought

Canada is too large to be governed in all domestic matters with a full awareness of regional needs by a central government. Thus the federal government has jurisdiction over matters generally limited to the welfare of the whole nation, while the provinces administer regional affairs. In theory, this should also provide for a federal government free from the influence of any one province, others out-voting the claimant. In practice, this is far from fact. Quebec's support is essential to the government, and Ontario's disapproval of a federal action has been the cause of an election.

To reduce this influence, exerted through the medium of the disproportionate share of the population possessed by the two provinces, it has been suggested that Canada be broken into 20 provinces, no one of which possessing more than 15 percent of the total population. Then, it is argued, the federal government need never fear the influence of any one province. Unfortunately, the boundaries between the provinces are marked more by differences of ancestry than geographical divisions. No matter how thinly sliced, predominantly French Quebec and predominantly English Ontario would vote and think much in the manner that they now do. It would mean work for the cartographers, but such a proposal would have little effect upon the forces which now influence the government.

After listening to the broadcasts of the U.S. election results, we are more confused than ever over the methods by which the president is elected.

With the exception of Cousins milk wagon and one or two other minor indications of mischief, Halloween passed quietly in Newmarket. It was another vindication of the policy, begun in the last three years, of providing worthwhile entertainment for the youth of the town as an alternative to paying a heavy damage bill the following day.

How Newmarket Is Governed

The following brief on civic affairs was prepared by Mrs. Elman Campbell for presentation at the October meeting of the Home and School Association. It was presented in the form of a quiz. Participating were: Jean King, Donna Bugler, Betty Jane Gould, Stephanie Rourke, Mayno Taylor, Neil Tate and Bobby Forhan.

With nomination night drawing near it was felt that this quiz would act as a reminder to people of their duties as citizens. Material was provided by Wesley Brooks, town clerk.

The first step in civic or municipal government is the preparation of the voters' list. The voters' list or assessment roll must be compiled on or before September 30 each year. This list is prepared by the assessor and is divided as follows: Owners or tenants of property; owners who own property in town but don't reside there, entitled to vote on municipal matters or municipal by-laws; for those who do not qualify for above but who are entitled to vote in Dominion and provincial elections.

This voters' list is then posted by the town clerk in his office. This year it was posted on October 14. Twenty-one days are allowed in which citizens may ascertain if their name is on the voters' list. The closing date this year was November 4. If a person's name does not appear on the list, a court of revision is held, presided over by a county judge and he decides if the name is to be added.

The last Friday of each November, this year November 28, is nomination night.

Nominations are held at a public meeting and are received by the town clerk between the hours of 7.30 and 8.30 p.m. Any citizen is free to run for any office provided he or she meets the following requirements: (a) must be present at the meeting; (b) all municipal taxes must be paid to date; (c) the nominee is required to sign an oath of allegiance; (d) must be British subject 21 years or over, live in or within a radius of five miles of municipality.

Following this, qualification papers must be filed by nominee by 9 p.m. the day following nomination meeting.

Canon Cody Opens Aurora

At the formal opening of the new $100,000 high school at Aurora November 2, Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, representing the minister of education, delivered an inspiring address to the parents and students present according to the files of 25 years ago. A large number of citizens filled the assembly room of the school during the opening ceremony. The meeting was presided over by Dr. W. J. Stevenson, chairman of the Aurora high school board. The keys for the opening ceremony were handed over by Dr. Stevenson to Canon Cody who declared the building open. In the evening the students gave an enjoyable entertainment before a large gathering. The entertainment is to be repeated owing to the large number who could not gain admittance.

The Office Specialty Co. has started the manufacture of all kinds of office chairs and is making up a fine display.

Big market here last week. As high as 85 cents was paid for eggs, but 80 cents was the ruling figure. Forty-five cents was the highest paid for butter. Lots of poultry, both alive and dressed. Potatoes were plentiful. Farmers were asking $1.35 at first but came down to $1 before the market closed. Onions were 80 cents a peck and beets and carrots brought 40 cents a bushel. Celery sold at 10 cents a bunch or three for 25 cents, dressed chickens at 25, 28-30 cents a lb., and dressed turkeys sold at 47 cents a lb.

The T.O.B. club and friends spent an enjoyable evening at the home of one of its members, Mrs. H. E. Gilroy, on Thursday evening. On arrival at the house the guests were conducted by witches and ghosts to the attic which was decorated with pumpkins and other Halloween decorations. Each guest was dressed as a child, some carrying dolls, teddy bears and all-day suckers. There were stunts and fortunes and an old-time concert in which everyone took part.

The high school staff and students are having a special remembrance of Armistice Day today. At 3 o'clock a brief memorial service will be held at the entrance to the grounds where the memorial pillars are erected.

From The Era and Express files, November 4, 1896

Last Saturday morning at about 7 o'clock, C. A. Terry heard a flutter around the chicken coop. Looking out he saw a hawk after the fowl. He shot the hawk and he is having it stuffed to ornament his dental parlor.

Big crowd in town last Saturday and a splendid market. Eggs were firm at 18 cents and butter from 16 to 17 cents. A large quantity of both dressed and live fowl was offered. Dressed chickens sold from 35 to 50 cents a pair and dressed turkeys from seven to eight cents a lb. Apples from $1 to $1.50 per barrel and ten to 15 cents a basket. Today was a gorgeous Indian summer day so I went to call on an old friend. I kept saying to myself how lucky I was to be living in such a nice old town like Newmarket, and when I made that same remark to my friend, she agreed whole heartily. I told her about going north on Main St. to Queen, and how as I went down the hill past the Christian church, I could see the maples away up at the top of the town, near the cemetery, in their lovely autumn colors against the azure blue of the sky. The air was warm, the sun was bright, and there was no wind.

I turned along Queen St. but when I came to the high bridge over the C.N.R. tracks, I stopped to admire the view—nobody was in sight to wonder why I was standing there gazing about—so I took my time, for the view was wonderful! Away to the south was the aluminum water-tower, the high school and Pickering College, all surrounded by golden colored maple trees. (They are golden this year instead of bright red and the deeper crimson). Nearer were the C.N.R. tracks with their shining steel rails, so straight, till they come to the pond, or where the pond used to be, I should say, for it still hasn't filled up and is now just some land with a small stream meandering through it. The little stream, which is a rushing torrent in the spring, winds through the flats north of the huge Office Specialty buildings, with lovely willow trees along its banks.

Towards the North Turning to the north, you see beyond the C.N.R. station, the Davis Leather plant and the Dixon Penell factory. In between is the Newmarket Lumber Company's building and east of that, right up to Charles St., is the Hoffman factory.

As I stood there, my thoughts went back to when we used to think it a tremendous adventure to be allowed to go to the High Bridge to watch the train go under; and we used to go and gather marguerites in June in the field on the side of the slope of the sidewalk between the High Bridge and the small bridge over the little stream. How we loved those marguerites! And we'd look north in wonder at the piles and piles of saw-logs that came by train and by horse-drawn sleds to Cane's factory. Then later on, I recall, we stood at one side to watch the Metropolitan street railway engineers swing the span into place over the C.N.R. tracks, to complete their right-of-way up to Lake Simcoe, for the track was all built up along there till it again hit level ground at Huron St., now Davis Dr. Span Still There

The cement span over the little stream is still there, for I looked today to see. It was a clever piece of work, but there were folks in those days who would not board the street-car at the Metropolitan station to go to Lake Simcoe, but went all the way across town to Huron St. to get on. There never was an accident, so far as I recall, in all the years the street-cars ran up to Jackson's Point.

Well then I ambled on — and guess where I went? Around that little street that curves to the south, then east, and comes out on Prospect Ave. beside the other little stream which runs through town from the east. It is such a pleasant little street, with nice quiet homes on both sides. The big house, now made into two, we used to call Dudley Manor; faces north and still looks very imposing. The little stream goes under a wooden bridge and heads for Queen St. What a town this is for bridges, and when they all go out at once in the spring freshet, as I have known them to do, well—it can be an expensive business.

Miss Margaret McKinnon was Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white brocaded satin gown ending in a slight train. Her finger-she carried red roses. Miss Leone Toole, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, wore coral faile taffeta and carried cream mums. Miss Joan Kilby, bridesmaid, sister of the bride, chose green faile taffeta and carried yellow mums. Arnot Toole, man, and the ushers were N. F.

Miller and A. H. Harding.

POTTAGEVILLE
Owing to the dull weather, there was only a fair attendance at the Sunday service of the United church. This is to be regretted as the sermon preached by Rev. C. W. Cragg was well worth hearing.
We were sorry to hear that Mrs. P. Froggott is a patient at St. Michael's hospital in Toronto where she has undergone an operation. Mr. Alan Neal has been in the same hospital for a week, but is leaving to spend some time at his home in Port Arthur, where he will rest after his recent operation.
Mrs. Fizzell is recuperating after having had a bad accident when she unfortunately broke her hip in a fall. She is staying with her son, Mr. Lester Fizzell, in Toronto, where her daughter, Mrs. John Jarvis, will assist in nursing her mother back to health.
Mr. Thomas Blackburn, who has been confined to bed for several weeks owing to a heart attack, is now able to sit up for some time each day.
We are delighted to report that the above mentioned patients are all on the road to recovery. We know their friends and neighbors will be glad to receive this encouraging news.
Mrs. Clara Shaw has suffered a great loss in the death of her sister, Kathleen Lorenna Joffe, which occurred at the Toronto
Western hospital on Sunday, Oct. 31. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives.
The German fans, who attend soccer matches in great numbers, do not express their feelings, but watch the play in silence.

'Curtain Cue'
By Dramatic Club

By GOLDEN GLOW
Newmarket — The Dramatic club treated Newmarket to a most unique and interesting play, Curtain Cue, written and directed by Mrs. Dorothy Muir Bowman. The premiere was Wednesday evening and despite the weather, the hall was well filled with an appreciative audience.
Curtain Cue portrays the behind-the-scenes activities of a small-town dramatic club, a town like our own and a dramatic club such as our Newmarket group.
Newmarket is particularly fortunate in having such an accomplished orchestra to entertain before the play and during intervals between acts. Last Wednesday, they played several most delighful selections. The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. H. A.
Jackson, and seemed to enjoy playing as much as we enjoyed listening.
The play opens with the stage manager, Bill Lander (M. H. Mc-Morrow) and the director, Mrs.
Dorlan (Barbara Hamilton), talking in her living-room while waiting for the other members of the club to arrive. Mr. and Mrs.
Faris (George McNelly and Helen Coveney), who never seem to agree, arrive followed by Megs Moore (Mary Dales), make-up artist. The four other characters are younger and enter in sports clothes. Edith Weeks, played by Mrs. Joe Dales, Teresa Gaynor by Marjorie Ballie, Cleaster Day by Jack Struthers and Gary Brant by Joe Dales.
The drama which was portrayed in the play attempts to put on Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew and a cutting of the Shrew is staged within Curtain Cue.
During the cutting, no curtain was used and props were limited.
Mike McMorrow, playing the jester merely held up a card with "curtain" printed on it and would gambol across the stage.
It was very effective.
The costumes were wonderful.
It must have taken much time and thought to work out the Shakespearean details. It was all staged just as any club, the same as our Newmarket Dramatic club would put on a play, with an audience of children for the first

TALK SAVING
Newmarket—Industrial representatives met with the local hydro commission tonight and chairman Fred S. Thompson asked for methods, especially shifting working hours, to help the hydro situation. He spoke especially to the smaller industries.
The Office Specialty Co. has obtained a diesel by which, they say, they can cut off nearly all consumption of hydro in a week.
A Davis Leather Co. representative said that they would shift working hours to Sunday if absolutely necessary and if there were similar co-operation elsewhere. The Price Air Conditioning Co. said they could cut off machines three or four days a week.

PRIZEWINNER
Newmarket—At the Business and Professional Women's Halloween dance Friday night, Mrs.
M. Hunter was the winner of the permanent wave voucher donated by Thompson's Beauty Parlor.
night and the remarks of these children brought down the house.
George McNelly played superbly as an electrician and stage carpenter.
I just want to add one more tribute and congratulations to Dorothy Muir Bowman and tell her we will be eagerly awaiting her next play.
Many out-of-town guests were included in the audience. Among the representatives from the Central Drama League, who attended the premiere performance of Curtain Cue, were such prominent critics as Esse Yungh, festival adjudicator at Hart House in 1947, Dr. Levinson, festival director for 1949, William Needles of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and Eason, Humphries, president of the Central Ontario Drama League.
The director and author of Curtain Cue has been invited to enter a proposed one-act version of her play as a festival entry at the Central Ontario Drama Festival in Toronto at Hart House in February.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Harold, eight, has been shelving toys and games for the past two years. Before Harold began "shelving" on his own, his mother had controlled the shelving situation. Always, at Christmas time, there were more toys than the child knew what to do with, so mother put some of them aside. These were brought out sparingly on rainy days during the course of the year.

Harold first began shelving toys on his sixth birthday. It was then that he had his first party and among the gifts he received were several educational toys. Mother and older sister were especially enthusiastic about the educational toys and didn't waste any time showing Harold the proper use to make of them. It was a few days after the party that Harold decided to shelve some of his gifts. He included all the educational toys—even the almost irresistible red fire truck which his sister had spent most of one Saturday evening, assembling. In fairness to the truck—it was the only constructive toy that was retrieved during the course of the year—but no intended educational use has been made of it to date.

Harold likes to play his own way with toys. The fact that his mother and sister could make proper use of his toys didn't interest him. On the contrary, the fact that he couldn't, served to discourage him. When trying to interest a child in a new educational toy, some important factors to keep in mind are that it's the child we're trying to interest, it's the child who should do the experimenting and the learning, and it's the child who must have successful results.

Group Parcels To U.K., Cut Cost, Raise Volume

In an effort to reduce the cost and speed delivery of food parcels to Britain, the United Emergency Fund for Britain has been established as a joint project of Britain and Canada.

Under this new fund, all food parcels will be sent to a Canadian depot, and then sent overseas with Britain paying the shipping costs. This arrangement will almost halve the cost of sending individual parcels because of the high shipping cost.

Newmarket has been foremost in the shipment of personal parcels to Britain this past year, and chairman H. J. Luck has been asked by the United Emergency Fund for Britain to assist in the organization of similar projects throughout this district. Newmarket has sent over 600 parcels overseas since the campaign was begun.

To further reduce cost, it is possible now for individuals to purchase "food orders," their money being used to buy bulk foods in Canada for shipment overseas to Britain. Individual food parcels to friends or otherwise specified recipients are not, as yet, allowed the benefits of this free transportation.

An annual campaign for funds will be initiated across Canada Nov. 14 and will run for three weeks.

AGNES LUNN WED AT KESWICK
Amid a picturesque floral and autumn leaf setting at Keswick Christian church, Agnes Lunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Lunn of Keswick, Ont., became the bride of James Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Webber of Toronto, in a double-ring ceremony. The marriage was performed by Rev. R. Serrick. Mrs. Serrick played the wedding music and Fred Raines was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a picture gown, made by her mother, of white tulle with a full skirt falling from a pointed waistline formed a slight train. Her finger-tip veil was embroidered and gathered to a coronet of orange blossoms and lily of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses. She wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

COUPLE WED AT ZEPHYR UNITED

Zephyr United church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, Oct. 16, when Martha Bernice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cain, Zephyr, was united in marriage to Garnet Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw, Uxbridge.

Autumn leaves, flowers and ferns formed the setting for the service, conducted by Rev. A. F. Bamford, Zephyr. Mrs. Clifford Walsh, Toronto, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a gown of white brocade satin, with net yoke, long pointed sleeves and a short train. A Queen Anne halo held her three-quarter-length veil. She carried a cascade of white 'mums and pink roses. She wore a strand of pearls and matching earrings.

The bridesmaid, Miss Joan Cain, cousin of the bride, wore a pink tulle gown with matching gloves, and a shoulder-length veil caught by a halo of flowers and carried pink roses. The maid of honor, Miss Joan Cain, sister of the bride, wore a blue tulle gown with net skirt, matching gloves and a shoulder-length veil, caught by a halo of flowers and carried yellow roses.

The flower-girl, Donna Shaw, sister of the groom, wore a blue tulle gown with matching bonnet and gloves, and carried a nosegay of 'mums and yellow roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Mervin. The ushers were Mr. Keith Martin, Toronto, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Carl Meyers, Zephyr, cousin of the groom.

During the signing of the register, Miss Dulcie Peters, Uxbridge, sang "At the Dawning."

After the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received in blue crepe with black accessories, and a corsage of white 'mums. The groom's mother assisted wearing blue crepe with brown accessories and a corsage of white 'mums.

For travelling the bride chose a loganberry wine coat with navy accessories and a corsage of white 'mums.

However what I want to say a few words about is what we saw and heard in Newmarket town hall on Wednesday and Thursday nights of last week when Dorothy Muir Bowman's "Curtain Cue" was presented by the Newmarket Dramatic club to two large audiences. Here was true adventure. Mrs. Bowman ventured into the realm of drama and brought out something new; the cast found plenty of adventure in new roles, and the audience found themselves sharing this new venture. My husband and I were glad that being in the orchestra we saw the two presentations, for the second night far surpassed the first — the adventures in this new field of drama had found themselves and proceeded to conduct us through a play that gave them an opportunity for fine acting and we, the audience, an opportunity to see behind the scenes. Both my husband and I had been in opera and concert companies and knew something of the difficulties involved in any presentation, and it brought it all back and gave us, as no

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

IT WAS DIFFERENT

From childhood until we "shuffle off this mortal coil" the spirit of adventure is in nearly all of us. It takes different forms. Some climb mountains or pioneer in little known lands or sail uncharted seas. A good many of us find that there is plenty of adventure in "the trivial round, the common task," for by the time we have coped with high prices, new recipes, illnesses, and all the gadgets that contribute to the comfort and confusion of modern living — we have adventured in the readiness of high finance, dietetics, medicine and science.

Not always are we successful, but neither are all great adventurers. The writer of Ecclesiastes said that there is no new thing under the sun and that the thing that hath been, it is that which shall be, and science is finding that the elements of all these wonderful new drugs have been around us for years but we are only now adventuring with them. I can't say that I like some of the adventuring in art and music. If some of the modern art reflects the way the artists see things, I should advise an oculist, but maybe I just lack the adventurous vision.

Some modern music leaves me tired from trying to find the thread of melody, which always so beautifully permeated the works of the old masters. Again — maybe I am not adventurous enough to seek it through dissonance and that to the other half of the family and me, is plain noise.

One thing Archie and I both remarked — and with pleasure — was the wonderful improvement in voice production on the second — Thursday — night. On the first night we had considerable difficulty in following some parts; on Thursday this drawback was eliminated and we heard every word. The actors faced their audience more consistently and used more of a head tone — hence the added pleasure and comfort of the audience.

We congratulate Mrs. Bowman on giving an audience something different, and her players for their interpretation. We shall look forward to her next production.

We understand that there is a comedy to be presented under the direction of Charles Lloyd early in December, and if other Newmarketers love plays as I do, they too will give it a warm welcome. The orchestra under the direction of H. A. Jackson played overtures, waltzes and marches during intermissions.

Nobody did all the audience, a more sympathetic attitude toward the difficulties of those who attempt amateur productions.

Mrs. Bowman has taken us into two new fields — she has taken us behind the velvet curtain and also has given us a play within a play — and Shakespeare at that! May I make one suggestion here? A little synopsis of the Taming of the Shrew on the programs might have helped those who are not Shakespeare addicts and added to both their comprehension and enjoyment of the play. Another adventure which we shared with Mrs. Bowman was the audience of children — and they were good. We all enjoyed their reactions. One thing that showed just how good the players were was that they played without glamorous background. If they had moved against beautiful Venetian scenes they would have felt the support such surroundings give, so their success in putting the play over was not because of background, but in spite of it.

Some of the players: Helen Covey, George McNelly, Marjorie Baille, Jack Struthers and Mike McMorow, we had seen before in widely different characters and it speaks well for the versatility, intelligence, talent and training of these young actors that the parts were so well taken. Barbara Hamilton, Molly Dales, Vi Dales and Joe Dales were newcomers to us. If they live up to their promise, the Dramatic club will have added some very valuable players to its list.

Homemakers' Exchange

"Good judgment is the result of experience, and experience is often the result of poor judgment" — so goes the old saying and it does apply to cooking. However, by combining imagination with exactness in preparation any homemaker can earn the reputation of a "born cook."

Tea biscuits are often used as a measure of a good cook and with biscuit dough there are innumerable variations.

TEA BISCUITS

2 Cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 Tsp. baking powder
1 Tsp. salt
3 Tbsp. shortening
2/3 Cup milk
Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles fine bread crumbs. Add milk slowly, to form a soft but not sticky dough. Roll to 1/4-inch thickness on a floured board. Cut, place on a baking sheet, and bake in a very hot oven (425 degrees) for 12-15 min. Yield: 12 medium-sized biscuits.

Variations

Tomato biscuits: Replace milk with 1/2-cup tomato juice.
Cheese biscuits: Use 1/2-cup grated cheese and 1 tsp. fat instead of the 3 tsp. called for in basic recipe.
Jam biscuits: Cut biscuits 1/2-inch thick. Make a deep depression in the top of each and fill with 1 tsp. jam.
Raisin biscuits: Add 1 tsp. sugar to basic recipe. Use 1/2-cup milk instead of 2/3-cup and add 1/2-cup raisins. Drop onto baking sheet by spoonfuls.
Apple biscuits: Add 1 tsp. sugar to basic recipe. Use 1/2-cup smooth applesauce instead of 2/3-cup milk.
Pineapple biscuits: Add 1 tsp. sugar to basic recipe. Roll dough into rectangle 4-inch thick. Brush lightly with melted shortening.

Campbell Heads Intermediate Club

There's a brand new hockey season just around the corner. The Newmarket Intermediate hockeyists put their house in order for the 1948-49 campaign with an organization meeting Monday evening. The election of officers that followed sent Albert C. Bruce, president of the U.S. and Canadian companies into the office as honorary president of the association. Doug Campbell was named president, Chas. E. Boyd, treasurer, John Hines, manager. Bruce got the nod to head the transportation committee and Geo. Haskett, Jr. the publicity. Along with the above officers, a four-man board of governors was selected, Sam Gibney, Tom Surgeoner, Chas. Crone and Ken Mount. The board of governors functions in an advisory capacity. The selection of a coach and assistant manager was left over until the first practice or gym session when prospective players could give their views on these two important posts. The delegates favored the idea of asking Pete Preston and Larry Scheffe to handle the dressing room duties. The delegates favored the entry of the Newmarket team into the Metropolitan League, which will apply for affiliation in the O.H.A. intermediate series. Canadian Hoffman Company will once again sponsor the team. Practice sessions and gym work will begin without delay. Some 25 names were suggested as possible candidates for playing material.

year—he'd like to see mercantile hockey. Why not? More stick artists get fun and exercise in that type of competition than in any other set-up. The stickler would be when to play—ice demand being what it is. Amalgamation might be necessary for some of the factories but surely a four-team grouping might be managed, two or three from town and an equal number from outside points. All O.H.A. players would be barred, of course. Harold Gwyn opines Roche's Point wouldn't have to be asked twice to enter a mercantile loop here.

There is something new under the sun, a public school rugby league, six-man variety. The finals of the four-team circuit are being decided this week. Frank Hollingsworth is the directing genius. It should give the young gaffers a grounding in the fall pastime.

John Hines, holding the guiding reins in the Metropolitan League and manager of the Newmarket Intermediates, has a busy time ahead. It's likely he'll sleep, eat and drink hockey for the next six months.

All of which brings us up to say Mr. Kuhn has the hockey bug firmly implanted after a

ACCENT ON THE POSITIVE

A cold war which threatens to warm up is going on in district hockey right now. Stouffville first to declare itself for the season, chose the intermediate field and under the dynamic leadership of Clare Bell and Dr. Stan Ball, went out and secured Ernie Lawrie, Markham Millionaires, as coach. They signed players, held practices and seemed headed for a great season when Harry Watts, president of the Millionaires last winter, decided things couldn't continue and entered Markham Millionaires in the O.H.A. That means two teams in the same sector and a great scramble for players. The rivalry won't hurt the gates a bit and Stouffville arena, which is being enlarged this winter, will probably break out at the seams every time Markham plays in Stouffville and the same thing in Markham.

The move to have the Newmarket entry in the new Metropolitan loop given O.H.A. status also will add fuel to the fire as Stouffville has signed already Bill Johnston, Johnny Crewson, Normie Legge and Don Smith of last year's canaltown Vets, and neither the Stouffville management nor the players in question propose to forsake each other. Doubtless those in charge of the Newmarket team will appeal to the O.H.A. for certainty that foursome are needed badly enough by any Newmarket entry. Stouffville, if necessary to obtain grouping or retain a really good playing roster, is prepared to jump to senior B. We hope that their present rating of intermediate A will be retained and that there will be none of the foolishness this season such as occurred last winter when Stouffville was forced into junior B. After all, this district is entitled to championship hockey. That goes for both fans and players.

Here's the way the 1948 Markham line-up appears to be breaking for this winter. With Stouffville are Bob Lawrie, Austy Baker, Jack Runney, goalie Jack Harper and Ernie Lawrie. With Markham are George and Fred Scott, Bert Baker, Dick Perry, Bruce Forgie and Harry Milroy. Undecided as to where he will play but leaning toward Markham at the moment is Jackie Watson, who by the way, will coach the Unionville entry in the junior C series. Howard Forgie, who played in Scotland last winter, is claimed by Markham but has a yen to play with Stouffville. Among the players signed by Stouffville, in addition to the eight named above, are Lewis, Jewitt and Campbell of the '48 squad. Clarke of Q. and L. Flyers, Bill Bradbury, Uxbridge, who played overseas last winter, and Ross Hochberger, also of Uxbridge, and who is better than average. There are many more candidates available and the practices draw over 30. On Wednesday of next week the team goes to Georgetown for an exhibition match and the following Friday will invade Welland. Double blue will be the color scheme for the team this winter.

Red Mitchell, Aurora recreation director, despite news to the contrary, has not signed to play with Swansea Sentinels coached by ex-Ranger Yank Boyd. Red still awaits an amateur card and will do nothing in the interim to jeopardize his receiving it. He's not sure even then that'll send him to Ravina. He hopes to play locally if, as and when the intermediate team is completed. Leonard Simmons still hasn't announced whether it will be junior C or junior B for Aurora. It looks like the former as George Panter of the O.H.A. has ruled city and suburban junior players from Toronto won't be passed for Aurora in any series and one or two good prospects were counted upon in the reckoning for any B entry. While junior hockey is on tap, Bill Boychhoff, who played with Aurora last winter, has turned out with Unionville juniors and is prepared to bump the bejambers out of his old team mates this winter. Polly Minton, Bun Sellers, Normie Stundin, Jack Atkinson, Stouffville, have joined Unionville who will be managed by none other than Charles "Goldlocks" Nesbitt, the ex-Newmarket camp-Markham marksman. Watson and Nesbitt should make a great team.

Aurora Baseball Great, Ernest Theo Hale Dies

Funeral services were held on Wednesday last for Ernest Theo Hale of Mimico, former Aurora resident, who died suddenly. He is survived by his widow and two children and at the time of his death was employed at Anaconda Brass Ltd. He was in his 42nd year.

North York baseball fans of the 20's will recall the late Theo Hale as one of the greatest pitchers to ever perform in these parts. Hale matched strides with Earl Cook, Bas. McHale, Lou. Lehman, Chuck Thoms, Lefty LaChapelle, Hal. Learoyd, hurling high class ball in those days for Stouffville, Newmarket, Sutton, etc. He possessed blinding speed, fairly good control, and a fine assortment of hooks and if he had cared to make baseball a career as did Earl Cook, he could easily have done so.

Hale played baseball for Aurora high school as well, and the school nine ruled the roost in secondary school competition. Among Hale's teammates at Aurora were Roy Gifford, Charlie Naughton, Wilf. Oram, Lindsay Robinson, Ab. Hulse, Percy Devins, Eric Soanes, Harry Squibb, Buck Hayes, Earl Browning, the late Eugene Underhill, George Jiggins and "Lefty" Kay.

Goals Short, Action Hot In Soccer Series

The indoor soccer crews moved into the thick of the semifinals Tuesday evening. The teams did their kicking and punting hither and yon without apparent results for both games ended in a deadlock.

In game number one the Hoffman hoofers surprised the favored Vets' machine as the teams waged a scoreless duel. Tod Mosier, defending the Vets' goal, refused to be beaten, Tony Rogers duplicated his feat at the other end. Now, don't think for a minute, just because no goals were recorded, it was a dull game. It was anything but that. Both clubs had their scoring chances but missed the boat. The closest to breaking the stalemate came from Ken. Groves' kick which nicked the Hoffman goal post but the ball sailed away, to save the Factory lads embarrassment. Three penalties were dishd out, two to the Vets, Stan. Gibbons getting the first, while Normie Legge and Roy Smalley were chased for a rash-lin' to do.

In the nighttime the Specialty and Sangamo were whacking the pugilist about it a furious r.f.v. They didn't however do any damage to each other's reputations the game ended 1-1. The Specialty drew first blood early in the second, Howard Peterman punting a shot past Ted Taylor in the Sangamo citadel. The Specialty enjoyed their lead until the two-minute mark of the final chucker, when Gen. Newton—one of our better footballers—launched a shot past Rudy Ruddeck in the Specialty goal.

SKI CLUB TO MEET

Name Arthur Peppiatt As Badminton Prexy

Newmarket Badminton Club held its inaugural get-together of the present season Tuesday. In the election of officers that followed, Arthur V. Peppiatt was elected president, Geo. McNelly and Jack Hamilton, vice-presidents, Miss E. McGee, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Geo. McNelly heads the social committee.

The club will carry on through the winter on Monday and Wednesday at the high school. It is hoped to enter the North York league with teams from Aurora, Richmond Hill, Newmarket and possibly Earl Haig (Lansing). The club boasted a membership of 28 last year and it is hoped to increase this total during the present season.

Says Of Courtroom 'Worst Ever Seen'

Newmarket—A letter criticizing the condition of the town hall as a court room written by Dr. Joselyn Rogers, Toronto, to the mayor, was read at council meeting on Monday night.

Dr. Rogers, professor of analytical chemistry, University of Toronto, and an assistant to the attorney general, stated that he had been at the Newmarket court twice recently in connection with his work. He said that the condition of the walls and ceiling were bad, windows were dirty, pieces of festive decorations were still hanging in general windows and that the general condition was bad. Costly appointments are not necessary, he said, but a little money used the right way could make it clean and decent. Dr. Rogers' letter said that he has attended many courts in Canada and that the one in Newmarket had the worst accommodation of any he has seen.

Nine Months, Six Months Terms In Hide Theft

Newmarket — Convicted of participation in the Oct. 1 theft of over $1,500 worth of leather hides from Goodwin's Tannery, Holland Landing, Bruce Falvey and David Hartford, Newmarket, both received jail sentences in court here Friday. Falvey, charged with the theft of the hides, offered no defence. In a statement to the police, which was accepted as evidence, Falvey admitted participating in the Tannery theft. In sentencing him to nine months in jail, Magistrate O. S. Hollnake commented, "If I'm erring at all, it's on the side of leniency."

Convicted Oct. 23 of retaining the stolen hides in his possession, Hartford was remanded until the 20th for sentence. Counsel for the defence, Joseph Vale, suggested that the crime "was an act of drunken folly." Commenting, "I'm never greatly impressed with drunkenness as an excuse," Magistrate O. S. Hollnake sentenced Hartford to three months definite and three months indefinite.

First call for the intermediate hockey swingers goes out today. If you've a hankering to latch onto a berth on the intermediate squad, the team executive would like to see you at the arena at 10 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 7. Newmarket — Ghosts, ghouls, ghouls, cowboys and Indians, cops and robbers, mounties, hangmen, gypsies, pirates, princesses, clowns, cats, kittens, bunny rabbits, mickey mouses, Little Bo Peep, Mary and her little lamb, Dutch girl, little boy blue to name a few that caught the fancy, all had their moments at the Newmarket recreation commission's Hallowe'en party.

Led by the Newmarket Trumpet Band and Newmarket Citizens' Band, close to 1,000 costumed public school pupils and pre-school children paraded from the Alexander Muir, St. John's and King George schools to the arena. The judging of costumes was then carried out by Mrs. Herman Bennett, Chas. E. Boyd, J. B. Bastedo, John Hines and Grant Dillane.

Ted Gould, chairman of recreation commission, and J. B. (Jim) Walker spoke briefly outlining the busy program for the winter ahead which will make the arena a community centre.

With the judging over, the S. R.O. sign could have gone up for parents and pupils alike clamored into every available nook and cranny of the rink for the entertainment that followed. First it was Fifi the clown, raising a volume of laughter and applause, followed by the Clifford slack wire act, Geo. Laidlaw magician and the Ripley's balancing act. All enjoyed and appreciated the acts as they went off with pleasing zip under the guidance of master of ceremonies Les Beazer.

Bags of candies were passed out to each boy and girl upon entrance to the arena. This end of the proceedings was done up by the Lions. After the arena show, the spotlight swung to the town hall for the teen-age dance also sponsored by the recreation commission. Mrs. D. L. Brown was convener. Mrs. N. L. Mathews and Mrs. M. B. ## New Dressing Rooms For Aurora Rink

Aurora — Sanitation in the Aurora arena will be improved in the near future according to councillor Tom Swindle at the Aurora council meeting Monday evening. Two new dressing rooms are to be constructed on the east end of the arena at an estimated cost of $550. A great improvement in the sanitary facilities of the arena is expected with the proposed addition of two new flush toilets, a urinal and proper sewage disposal and water supply connections.

The appointment of William (Red) Mitchell as Aurora recreation director at a salary of $50 per week was approved by the council who also voted to donate $25 for the St. John's Ambulance Association national appeal.

Council decided to have the bumps on Yonge St. opposite the water tank properly repaired as soon as possible and also approved the new town numbering plan, requesting that it be implemented immediately.

Speaking on behalf of the planning board, councillor Harold Pringle announced that the photographic survey of Aurora has been completed. The mosaic is expected to arrive shortly. A report read by Harold Clark, town clerk, revealed that the employees of the town of Aurora had voted down the unemployment insurance plan proposed for them by the council. The contract for the installation of the required sanitary sewers and water mains in Aurora was awarded to the Marino Construction Company, Toronto.

Council also announced that the nominations for the 1949 council would take place in Tynny Hall November 22. The municipal election will be held December 6.
